

P Sn. 21364

1

28/5. 33.

gammeltaflogade 24, 4

सांघी संग्रह
आवरमती

Dear Bapu.

481

At 12 o'clock on the 28. 5. 33. The "fast is finished." Ellen Hömp wrote to me. Now the clock is 12, and you are free. and India and all the
the friends are relieved of a burden, many, many dark eyes have looked forward to that hour, also many eyes of brighter colour.

It is not only outside my windows that I see dark clouds. all over the world there are dark and threatening clouds, unworthy
and terrible things happen.
It is so good to know, Bapu,
that you are, that in the distant India there lives a man who wishes good to all!

I read your article in the "Hariyan" about the fast. It was the same as to hear your quiet, harmonious voice again, it was like sitting in front of you in the ashram.

Sm 21364

2

483

a morning in Kingsley Hall, in
in the circle around the fireplace
in the house in London.

You say that the great dead are working together with us. I cannot help thinking that strangest, broadest and most visible are the effects of their work while they live amongst, even if I understand and feel, that it is as you say that remembrance keeps the good and strengthens it.

Therefore I am very glad with the many all other the world so know that the warm and vivid eyes are open of the man who wishes all the world good.

Dear Wapi, I hope that it is the last time that you are obliged so frightened us thus!

Did you receive my last letter with my face, that you asked for?

You have written to Mrs.
Ester Menan about a birthday.

3 1st 21364

483

telegram from Denmark;
the society "Friends of India," have sent you a wire to your birthday, perhaps it is this.

Heartly greetings

to you, your wife and Devadas Janard. They have had very difficult time.

With my best wishes for a brighter future for India and for the world. I remain your

Cathinka Olsen.